

Hexagon in travertine “PDR067 Light Blend” Tumbled

HEXAGON in travertine is a type of tile made from light travertine pdr 067 Light Blend, with a tumbled finish, supplied loose.

This particular format is reminiscent of the old floors made in the early 1900s in Italy with tiles in colored cement.

The light and uniform color of the material cut in this “ancient” shape gives the paved environments a timeless charm.
