

Travertine bathtub “Ovale”

Usually we don't think of natural stone as being a flexible material. Yet it has always been used not only in construction but also to create decorative and artistic objects.

The current trend is to add distinctive elements along with the functional ones to the bathroom.

Stone and travertine bathtubs follow this trend and modern stoneworking equipment make prices much lower than in the past. Our “Ovale” bathtub is an excellent example.
